Insurance and structured finance – a new dawn?

A growing trend is emerging within the insurance sector, where insurers and other users of insurance products are looking to structured finance solutions both from an investment and risk management perspective.

What are the driving forces behind this development? Is regulation enhancing or impeding the trend? What role do insurers and other participants play in this new market?

On 10 November 2016, Hogan Lovells will host a seminar to discuss these issues. The session will feature a panel of experts drawn from across the industry, who will put forward their thoughts and share their own recent experiences.

Speakers will include:

- Michael Eakins - Managing Director, Goldman Sachs
- Gavin Palmer - Partner, Life Actuarial Team, KPMG
- Mark Wood - Director, Walbrook Advisors

The format of the event will be:

- 8:30am - Registration, networking and buffet breakfast.
- 9:00am – Panel Session – Insurance and structured finance – a new dawn? This session will include a 20 minute Q&A for you to ask questions to the panel.
- 10:00am – Closing remarks.

We do hope you will be able to join us for what we believe will be an interesting and informative morning.

Please feel free to share this invite with any of your colleagues who would be interested.
