

Our Healthcare & Life Sciences team in Bangkok comprises 25 healthcare lawyers and practitioners, including a unique Regulatory Affairs Services Department consisting of five professionals trained in food science, pharmaceutical science, and medical science. This gives us a thorough appreciation of scientific issues being faced by our clients, as well as complex pricing and reimbursement difficulties, compliance pressures, and marketing concerns related to ever-changing regulatory regimes. Our knowledge of the industry, combined with our awareness of local legal requirements around the globe, ensures that we can provide you with industry-tailored advice.
